

Blank BOY Canvas

Youth Workshop Program

Alongside the artist exhibit, we are working with youth advocacy partners and participating artists to host workshops where children get to express themselves on a small Tian Tian figure while being part of a broader dialogue on creativity, critical thinking and exploring cross-cultural collaboration.

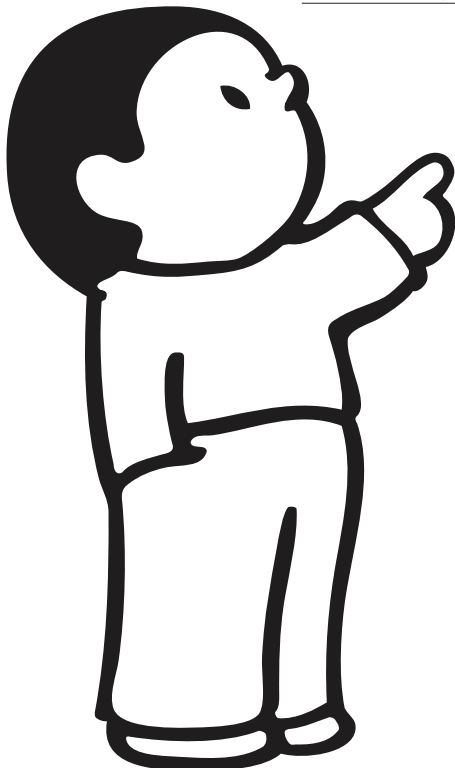

We believe Danny's emphasis on developing advocacy through arts is a key element for children in finding their own dialogue along side their peers in developing a broader understanding of cross-cultural exchange as well as empowering them by using the same canvas as established artists to stimulate thinking and enhance communication to create a more open, equal and interactive platform.

CHILDREN WILL GET TO EXPRESS THEMSELVES ON A SMALL TIAN TIAN FIGURE

FREE COMMUNITY WORKSHOPS WILL BE HELD ON JUNE 3RD, 2016
1pm - 5pm @ The Chinese Historical Society of America

Please complete the form for participant and email to: james@curiousandcreative.com
DEADLINE FOR WORKSHOPS SUBMISSION: JUNE 2ND 2016

Name of Participant: _____

Age: _____

Parent/Guardian: _____

Contact Number: _____

Emergency Contact: _____

Email Address: _____

Signature for Consent: _____

Please Select Workshop Time: 1pm-3pm 3pm-5pm

Additional Information: _____

Hong Kong
Economic & Trade Office
San Francisco

Zuni Icosahedron is financially supported by the government of Hong Kong Special Administrative Region

CHINESE
HISTORICAL SOCIETY OF AMERICA

ZIXAG

